Advanced Petrochemicals Co

Q2: Earnings in line; TP revise to SAR52/sh. on weak PP market dynamics

APPC reported broadly in-line earnings in Q2, down by ~33% q-o-q due to higher propane prices (+13% q-o-y), and higher losses from SK Advanced. Despite stable PP prices, revenues were weak and below expected in Q2, due to lower-than-expected sales volume amid weak product demand in Europe, Turkey, and Latin America. Going forward, we expect APPC's near-term performance to remain under pressure, weighed down by i) lower average PP prices (down by ~20% q-o-q so far in Q3; currently trading at around US$1,000/t vs. US$1,300/t in Q2), ii) lower product spreads, iii) likely lower netbacks in Europe and Turkey due to relatively high freight and logistic costs (US$150-200/t), and iv) expected higher losses from SK Advanced (the plant was shut from 25 July till the end of Aug). Accordingly, FCF is expected to remain under pressure in the near-term, further exacerbated by higher capex (PDH-PP plant in Jubail). The company has recently raised SAR6.1bn Islamic financing to fund the construction of the plants at Jubail Industrial City II, resulting in a net debt to EBITDA of ~1.6x in 2022e compared to ~0.6x in 2021. Nonetheless, we don't think that there will any pressure on dividends and expect the company to maintain its annual DPS at SAR2.20, implying a dividend yield of 4.6%. Considering the current market dynamics, we revise our TP to SAR52/sh based on an income-based approach (DCF for the existing plants and NPV for the PDH-PP Jubail plant), and dividend yield (using 4.25% yield on NTM DPS). We remain Neutral on the stock.

Q2 results: APPC reported Q2 revenues at SAR814mn (down ~6% q-o-q), slightly below our expectation of SAR878mn (consensus: SAR861mn), due to weaker sales volume. However, gross and operating profits came in line with our estimates at ~SAR169mn as better-than-expected improvement in production efficiencies offset the top-line miss. The company continued to incur losses from its equity investment (SK Advanced) for the fourth consecutive quarter, reaching ~SAR19mn loss (vs. our expected loss of SAR10mn). Overall, net profit came in at SAR110mn, in line with our estimate of SAR113mn (consensus: SAR143mn).

APPC's subsidiary signs SAR6.1bn Islamic facilities to build the new PDH-PP plant in Jubail: In July 2022, APPC's subsidiary (Advanced Polyolefins Industry Co.) inked several Sharia-compliant facility agreements worth SAR6.1bn with a consortium of financial institutions to fund the construction of the plants at Jubail Industrial City II (843k of Propylene, 800k tons of PP and 70k tons of IPA plants). The total credit facilities include a SAR4.7bn base facility, SAR438mn standby facility, SAR600mn bridge Murabaha facility, and SAR356mn VAT Murabaha facility. APPC will start repaying the base and standby facilities from May 31, 2025 in 22 unequal semi-annual installments, while the bridge and VAT Murabaha facilities will be paid before May 31, 2026.

Valuation and risks: Despite the near-term headwinds, we continue to remain positive on the company's medium to long-term growth prospects, due to i) strong utilization rates, ii) consistent operating performance, iii) FCF generation ability, iv) healthy balance sheet, and v) excellent management quality. The stock is currently trading at a P/E of ~33x on our 2022E EPS, above its 3Y historical avg. of 19.2x.

Based on the equal mix of income-based approach (DCF for the existing plants and NPV for the PDH-PP Jubail plant), and dividend yield (using 4.25% yield on NTM DPS), we revise our TP to SAR52/sh. (earlier SAR75/sh.) but remain Neutral on the stock. The key upside trigger might be attributed to sustained improvement in spreads while further weakness in product spreads, a dividend cut, and/or any unplanned shutdown may act as the downside triggers.

Explanation of Al Rajhi Capital's rating system

Al Rajhi Capital uses a three-tier rating system based on absolute upside or downside potential for all stocks under its coverage except financial stocks and those few other companies not compliant with Islamic Shariah law:

"Overweight": Our target price is more than 10% above the current share price, and we expect the share price to reach the target on a 12 month time horizon.

"Neutral": We expect the share price to settle at a level between 10% below the current share price and 10% above the current share price on a 12 month time horizon.

"Underweight": Our target price is more than 10% below the current share price, and we expect the share price to reach the target on a 12 month time horizon.

"Target price": We estimate target value per share for every stock we cover. This is normally based on widely accepted methods appropriate to the stock or sector under consideration, e.g. DCF (discounted cash flow) or SoTP (sum of the parts) analysis.

Please note that the achievement of any price target may be impeded by general market and economic trends and other external factors, or if a company's profits or operating performance exceed or fall short of our expectations.
